

A general meeting was organised in November by the Formula Student Team to emphasise the great strides that have been made toward the success of the project. Dr. Nishant Singh and Richard Albany have participated in the general meeting and have discussed the design progress of the chassis. Also, the students who participated in the previous year's competition shared their experience about the submission dates and documents amendments.

Furthermore, the Administration and Planning Team conducted various meetings to complete the Business Logic Case which was been submitted by 08/12/2017.

As we have been advised by the NETP partners, The Formula Student Team has started to recruit students who are majoring in Business courses. A meeting with the business students occurred in December and the Formula Student Team shared more information about the competition, our aim and the progress.

The Formula Student team is made of first, second and third-year students from BEng and BSc courses, all working in their spare time towards Formula Student Northampton success.

Plenty of first year students want to be involved in such a complex project and they are willing to contribute with their ideas, knowledge and experience.
